

JENNIFER FELIX

Jenn is a familiar face around Cobequid Dance Academy, as the mother of two dancing daughters and a regular part of the behind-the-scenes crew that keeps the studio sparkling and running smoothly.

She grew up in Mount Uniacke and has called Truro home for the last four years. She has worked in both administrative and customer experience industries for more than 15 years now, including a position managing a high-end spa in Bedford.

Jenn started several home-based businesses while staying at home with her two young daughters, and is pleased to be back in the workforce full-time where she can put her organizational skills to good use.

When not at the studio Jenn can be found volunteering with local schools and spending time with her family & friends.
